Regular Circulating Books Overdue fines: Items not returned within seven days of the posted due date will incur late charges. Fines are assessed per item per day until the accumulated charges equal the replacement cost of the item.

Hold requests: students may place a request on books already checked out, excluding Reserve items. You will need your photo SDCCD CSID card to make a request.

Interlibrary loan

If the book you need is located at another SDCCD library, ask a Librarian to fill out an Interlibrary Loan Request form. Circulation staff will enter your request into the system. You will need your CSID card. We do not have interlibrary loan privileges with libraries outside the SDCCD system. Staff will contact you by phone when the book arrives.

Computers are located in the Information Commons area and are available for research purposes. Access is provided to the SDCCD online catalog, several electronic databases and the Internet. Computers also have Microsoft Office. Students needing assistance using Microsoft Office will be directed to the Independent Learning Center (ILC). Headphones are available for checkout.

Reference Collection and Casual Reading Areas

The Reference area is located next to the Information Commons and holds two collections; reference books and law books. The books in both collections are for research and are Library Use Only. The Casual Reading area is behind the Reference Collection and provides comfortable relaxed seating with current newspapers and magazines displayed nearby. Feel free to study together and talk moderately at tables and casual seating located in these areas.

Quiet Study Area

There is a Quiet Study area located to the right of the Circulation Desk in the Circulating Collection area. Study carrels and tables are provided for individuals to study in a quiet environment. Loud talking, other noise and children are not permitted in this area. Please respect the need for quiet in this area, set cell phones to vibrate and answer your call outside.
